community news

The Pierce County Housing Authority in Washington State developed a program for individuals that cannot obtain housing to due to their inability to pass tenant screening criteria.

Called Housing Opportunities and Personal Education or H.O.P.E., the program is a one-year non-subsidized, educational effort to train participants in housekeeping and maintenance, landlord/tenant laws, and financial responsibilities. Upon graduation students are encourage to enter into rental agreements with any of the Authority's 20 locations. Visit our What Works page.
