Housing Authority of the County of San Bernardino Awards College Scholarships to Nine Students

The Housing Authority of the County of San Bernardino (HACSB) awarded scholarships to nine students, who are Public Housing and Section 8 Housing Choice Voucher (HCV) residents, to help them pay for their education expenses. San Bernardino Housing Authority provides $13,500 in assistance to current residents.

For 21 years, the Housing Authority has been awarding college scholarships to students in a commitment to helping students succeed in college. Students attending a four-year college or university receive a $1,500 scholarship while community and technical vocational students receive a $750 scholarship. The Housing Authority uses non-public funds to promote educational success among its participants.

This year’s scholarship recipients are attending one of the following four-year colleges/universities: Biola University, Cal State University, San Bernardino, La Sierra University, Oakland University, University of California Berkeley and University of California Riverside. The scholarship recipients’ areas of study include majors such as: anthropology, biology, criminal justice, nursing, political science, and psychology.

San Diego Housing Commission Assists Organizations Serving Downtown Homeless With 150 Housing Vouchers

This program uses authority granted to the San Diego Housing Commission (SDHC) Under HUD’s Moving to Work (MTW) Program to test innovative local initiatives.

San Diego, CA—By the end of the year, 150 homeless downtown San Diegans may find a place to call home as the San Diego Housing Commission (SDHC) prepares to distribute Section 8 Housing Choice Project-Based Vouchers to non-profit organizations that provide services and housing.

The program is SDHC’s largest-ever release of project-based housing vouchers and is funded by HUD.

“We know from HUD’s experience elsewhere in the country and our own recent experience that these housing vouchers can make a profound difference in helping people rebuild their lives,” said SDHC President & Chief Executive Officer (CEO) Richard C. Gentry. “We saw this same effort in our partnership with the United Way Project 25, which stabilized lives and reduced the costs of public resources by millions.”

Non-profit organizations selected for the housing vouchers must serve participants who are homeless within downtown San Diego.

Agencies and organizations providing supportive services to the homeless are eligible to apply for the housing vouchers, which allow them to rent units for their clients.

The Request for Proposals’ (RFP) weighted rating system includes incentives for organizations assisting the chronically homeless, ensuring this vulnerable population is served.

The San Diego County Regional Task Force on the Homeless, in its annual homeless count and survey this year, identified 1,122 homeless persons in Central San Diego, mostly in the downtown area. The countywide total of 9,641 was up 6.9 percent from 2011. SDHC is able to provide the vouchers as one of 35 Moving to Work (MTW) agencies designated by HUD. The designation provides flexibility to test innovative programs that address San Diego’s unique housing needs.

SDHC previously has provided 25 sponsor-based vouchers to Project 25, a United Way of San Diego County partnership with St. Vincent de Paul Village to assist homeless individuals downtown who account for some of the costliest demands on public services, such as emergency medical treatment and law enforcement.

After one year of a three-year pilot program, United Way found compelling results from the combination of long-term housing and supportive services in Project 25. Costs of public resources attributable to participants in the program were reduced to $3.4 million in 2011 from more than $11 million in 2010.

In the case of one of those participants, James, who had been living on the streets since 1998, 54 ambulance rides in 2010 were reduced to one in 2011, and 51 emergency room visits in 2010 went to one in 2011. SDHC also awarded 50 project-based vouchers for the Campaign to End Homelessness, a project of the Downtown San Diego Partnership and the former Centre City Development Corporation. These vouchers assisted high-risk individuals identified as vulnerable during “Registry Week,” survey of downtown homeless San Diegans conducted September 19-23, 2010. Community Research Foundation, Inc., and Mental Health Systems, Inc., which help mentally ill chronically homeless individuals, assisted with the program.

HACLA Section 8 Investigations Share Best Practices

The Housing Authority of the City of Los Angeles (HACLA) held a "meet and greet" networking session on August 29, 2012 where several Southern California PHAs met to discuss current agency challenges, best practices, and investigations.

The purpose was to collaborate on addressing and preventing program fraud and ensure registered sex offenders are not housed under the Section 8 Housing Choice Voucher or Public Housing programs.

Discussion focused on the challenges being faced by PHAs, the effectiveness of the numerous processes being utilized, and the administration of programs with integrity.

Among the resources discussed was the HUD Office of Inspector General (OIG), local law enforcement, the United States Postal Service criminal history background and credit checks, forms such as “Crime Free Addendum” and “Zero Tolerance”, and applying the federal regulations along with each PHA’s administrative policies.

Congratulations to PHAs that received FY 2012 HCV FSS and FY2012 PH FSS Awards

The Housing Authority of the County of San Bernardino: Partner in Revitalization

August 2\textsuperscript{nd} marked the groundbreaking ceremony of a 70-year old housing community – Valencia Grove – in the city of Redlands, California. The deconstruction and demolition will make way for a modern, energy efficient housing community that will provide first time homebuyer opportunities for moderate income families and townhouse apartments for low-income families. \textbf{This new development will include 115 Section 8 Housing Choice Project Based Vouchers.}

In an effort to build a mixed income community, HACSB has partnered with its affiliate non-profit developer, Housing Partners I, Inc. (HPI). For the first phase of this community transformation, $28 million has already been secured, consisting of 4\% Low Income Housing Tax Credits, tax-exempt bonds, and conventional financing. The initial phase will include 85-units and ultimately 228 units consisting of a recreational and educational facility. Utilizing an innovative modular construction format, factory built housing units will be installed to substantially accelerate the construction schedule.

The existing residents of the community are fully protected during the gradual relocation process and all families have the right to return upon completion of construction. These families, along with others, will then enjoy a much more vibrant, contemporary community.
In order to support sustainability, the Office of Public Housing hosted the second annual event entitled “Go Green! Sustainable Strategies for PHAs,” on July 26, 2012.

This event featured presenters from public housing authorities and HUD.

Karen Griego-West, a HUD Healthy Homes Officer, presented information on the HUD and EPA rules and guidelines regarding lead-based paint.

Additionally, John Borgardt from the Housing Authority of San Bernardino delivered a presentation describing its successful solar project completed with American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (ARRA) competitive funds.

Also, the Imperial Valley Housing Authority presented information about its experience as a participant in the new Green Physical Needs Assessment Tool pilot.

Michele Simmons, HUD Environmental Officer, spoke to the group regarding international sustainability practices.

“This was a fantastic event. It’s great to come together and share ideas like this,” said Norma Nunez of the Housing Authority of the County of Los Angeles.

The Los Angeles Office of Public Housing CONGRATULATES the 10 Public Housing agencies with zero (0) deficiencies on the Enterprise Income Verification (EIV) System Identity Verification Report as of September 30, 2012, that were identified by HUD Headquarters. Thank you for a job well done.

Resident Council, Housing Authority of the City of San Luis Obispo: Joint Volunteer Action Committee (JVAC) Shares great volunteer project

The Mission of the Joint Volunteer Action Committee (JVAC) of the Housing Authority of the City of San Luis Obispo (HASLO) is to assist agency staff in the performance of its duties and functions through the utilization of volunteers from the resident population and community. The JVAC was created by HASLO residents in order to enhance agency cost efficiency and productivity through the placement of volunteers in staff supervised assignments, primarily in the areas of clerical and maintenance support.

The JVAC was formed on June 1, 2011 during a regular meeting of the Resident Council. Since its inception JVAC volunteers have assisted agency staff in numerous clerical and maintenance projects at the HASLO office and at affordable housing properties in San Luis Obispo. These volunteer activities have helped conserve HASLO financial resources and promote operational and administrative efficiency and effectiveness.

The Joint Volunteer Action Committee is composed of staff members and client residents of the HASLO as well as community volunteers. The HASLO staff liaison is Sarah Castilleja, Housing Specialist.

Volunteers assist staff members in the office on a regular basis and participate in periodic landscape/cleanup projects in partnership with the agency’s maintenance department.

In addition to maintaining a close level of support between HASLO staff members and JVAC residents, volunteers also work cooperatively with students at Cal Poly State University during their annual “Week of Welcome” and “Make a Difference Day” community cleanup projects at HASLO managed properties.

There are currently thirty-four (34) HASLO resident volunteers. Efforts to attract and place new volunteers to the Joint Volunteer Action Committee are ongoing.
